・ 学習方針（講義概要等）

English is the primary language of international medical communication, and pharmacists need good English speaking and listening skills in order to function effectively in any environment where they encounter English-speaking patients and English-speaking medical professionals, whether inside or outside Japan. English Speaking and Listening (ESL) is a course focused on developing these communication skills through active engagement with Internet-based materials relating to a wide range of topics in health and pharmacy. There will be a heavy focus on active learning through group discussions and oral presentations, so active participation in class is a must. Classes will be conducted entirely in English so as to maximize exposure to the target language.

・ 教育成果（アウトカム）

Through listening tasks, discussion tasks, vocabulary-building activities, and the preparation and delivery of short English speeches, students will become capable of communicating effectively in professional contexts with English speakers, both native and nonnative, both abroad and in Japan.
(ディプロマ・ポリシー：4,5)

・ 到達目標（SBO）

At the end of the course students will be able to:

1. apply appropriate strategies to improve listening and speaking. (47, 48)
2. use a wide range of vocabulary for health- and pharmacy-related topics. (☆)
3. express opinions on a range of health- and pharmacy-related topics. (60)
4. deliver short presentations to an audience without reading from a script. (☆)
5. work collaboratively to achieve outcomes in pairs and groups. (56)
6. collect and synthesize material from online sources. (60, 61)
